Growing Up

I do not like doors
that close behind then lock.
And me without the key
to go back through.
So, I pause
before I turn the handle.
